MAJOR ORDER FOR AMUT

AMUT, leading company operating in the field of integrated recycling process solutions, was recently assigned a major order from A2A, a big multi-utility Italian group and a leader in the field of energy and the environment. Recognising the value of the innovative technological solutions offered by the manufacturer, A2A decided to take advantage of the company's know-how to optimise its key processes. The order from A2A represents, therefore, a very important step in the consolidation of AMUT's position and reputation on the Italian market.

The highly efficient tailored solutions that will be developed by AMUT for this A2A order are aimed to create a positive impact on sustainability by renovating the CSS plants of the multi-utility group, making them suitable for new products and the latest standards imposed by Corepla (Italian Consortium for the Collection and Recycling of Plastic packages), as well as improving their operational efficiency.
