FEEDING LINES FOR PRESSES

ASSERVIMENTIPRESSE SRL was founded in 1989 from the thirty-year experience of its founding members and has been present on the sheet metal processing market for 35 years now.

The company is specialized in the designing and construction of feeding lines for presses capable of processing coils with widths from 200 to 2000 mm and thicknesses from 0.3 to 17mm.

Through the optimization of the production process, we offer a quality and cutting-edge product that includes traditional lines, three-machine lines and compact lines

Thanks to energy-saving technology, the compact lines can save from 10% to 50% of energy, while the lines for electric presses are versatile, efficient and high performing.

The company has installed over 4,000 systems around the world and now exports its technology to over 20 countries in Europe, America and Asia.
